

IS IT OFFENSIVE TO WANT SOMEONE JUST FOR HOW HE LOOKS? BUT HE LOOKS THAT WAY BECAUSE HE NEEDS TO BE LOVED, RIGHT? HE NEEDS TO BE LISTENED TO. NOT HIS WORDS AND THOUGHTS. HIS BODY. MY FIN-GERS AND MOUTH THE EARS. IF I COULD JUST TOUCH HIS BEARD. LICK
 HIS EYES, HIS HEAVY EYES. CHEW ON HIS EARS. IF I COULD PRESS INTO HIS BODY AND FEEL ALL THE TENSION, THE WONDER, THE STRESS AND PAIN. I COULD HEAR IT. IT COULD BE SAID. HE COULD LET IT GO. HE NEEDS TO BE SEEN. HE NEEDS TO BE TOUCHED. HE NEEDS TO BE WOR-
 SHIPPED. THE FOLD OF HIS BELLY, THE MUSK OF HIS BALLS, THE SWEAT
 ON HIS SKIN: HE NEEDS TO BE APPRECIATED. I WOULD LOVE TO SWIM
 IN HIM LIKE A CREEK IN SOME FAR OFF FOREST, FOREVER THERE AND LONG FORGOTTEN OF NEVER KNOWN, BUT TO JUMP INTO IT, THE PLEA-SURE OF MY WHOLE BODY SINGING ITS PRAISES. . . WOULD HIS BEARD
 FEEL LIKE THAT ON MY THIGHS? ON MY NECK? WHAT WOULD HIS SNOR-
 ING SOUND LIKE? HIS HEAVY BREATHING WHILE HE'S SLEEP-
 ING? WHO WILL HE BE GOING HOME TO? IF I ASKED HIM TO COME HOME WITH ME WOULD IT BE ABSURD OR WELCOMED? HOW DO I SAY

A GUY I WOULD FUCK	DOMINIC SOWINSKI	05/06/2008
--------------------	-------------------------	-------------------

Dominic Sowinski, A Guy I Would Fuck, 2008, inkjet print, 11 by 8.5 inches from the exhibition The Guys We Would Fuck curated by Nayland Blake at Monya Rowe, New York.